

STRATEGICALLY LOCATED BETWEEN DEEPSEA TERMINALS AND EUROPEAN LOGISTIC HUBS

Strategically situated between Antwerp and Brussels, Hutchison Ports Belgium substantially unburdens its customers in terms of logistics. The inland terminal on the Scheldt-Brussels Canal in Willebroek organises both the transport of containers to and from the seaport and the on-demand pick-up and delivery of containers right at the customer's doorstep. Cargo is always available just-in-time.

DAILY CONNECTED WITH ANTWERP AND ROTTERDAM

Hutchison Ports Belgium is situated at the heart of a rapidly growing region for European distribution. As part of the ECT's Hutchison Ports Europe Intermodal, the inland terminal is connected on a daily basis by barge with the deep-sea terminals in Antwerp, and Rotterdam: the first European port of call for many Asia-bound liner services. Due to its situation near major motorways, Hutchison Ports Belgium furthermore constitutes an attractive hub for distribution deeper into Europe.
